

PRIZE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE JENA ALLIANCE OF GRADUATE SCHOOLS „LIFE IN FOCUS“

SIEGFRIED CZAPSKI PUBLICATION PRIZE 2023

You have written a remarkable paper that has been accepted by an international journal within the last year? Then ask your supervisor to nominate you for the publication award! It is a wonderful opportunity to recognize and appreciate an outstanding scientific achievement.

The Prize is endowed with 2,000 EUR of personal and taxable prize money and honors exceptional contributions at the interface of the university profile lines LIGHT and LIFE.

The criteria of the award and more information on the nomination procedure you can find here:

<https://apply2.uni-jena.de/acefa>

The Jena Alliance "Life in Focus" promotes postgraduate qualification by connecting and strengthening structured doctoral programmes with support of the Carl-Zeiss-Stiftung in Jena (www.alliance.uni-jena.de).

Who is eligible to apply?

Doctoral and postdoctoral researchers that are members of the Jena Alliance of Graduate Schools "Life in Focus" (JSMC, JSMM, ASP, MPSP).

How to apply?

For nomination, the supervisor has to submit a nomination letter and the full manuscript of the publication. The deadline is July 15.

Siegfried Czapski (1861-1907) was a German physicist. As a close companion of Ernst Abbe, he made a major contribution to the publication of fundamental works in physics. He was also one of the first representatives of the Carl-Zeiss-Stiftung.

FRIEDRICH-SCHILLER-UNIVERSITÄT
JENA Alliance
Life in Focus

CZS
Carl Zeiss
Stiftung